An extraordinarily high level of technical and scientific programs, for the academic and the industrial participants.

The just renowned international conference center Fortezza da Basso, leader among the poles of Tuscany.

An excellent conference exhibition area to display state-of-the-art technology.

Dear Colleagues,

On behalf of the Conference Organizing Committee, it is my pleasure to invite you to EuCAP 2023, Europe's flagship conference on antennas and propagation, which will take place in Florence from 26th to 31st March.

Florence is a unique location with exceptional history and art. It's an open-air museum, that can offer a different and fascinating show in every season. The historic center is a stage surrounded by the Renaissance architecture of noble palaces, squares, and churches. An open-air museum surrounded by the Chianti hills: Florence is home to nothing but wonder.

For centuries, millions of intellectuals, pioneers, traders, and artisans have been passing through Florence with the desire to stay, leaving their works as a gift. The Renaissance marked the beginning of this synergy between the city and its visitors. Its evolution, nowadays, is defined as quality congress tourism, for which delegates, specialized in the most varied and fundamental disciplines, come from all over the world in search of a stimulating, amazing, and above all tailor-made experience.

Florence is a perfect location since it represents modernity in a historical environment, offering all the facilities of a modern city but in a renaissance environment rich in suggestive scenarios.

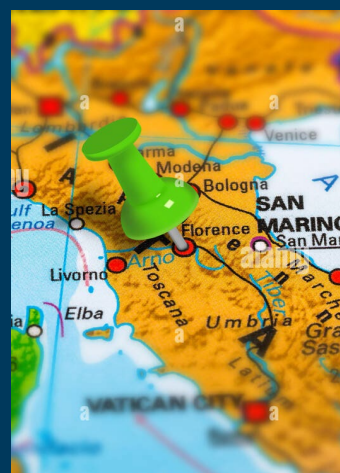

This feature, plus the lively cultural atmosphere, the excellent Italian food, and the Mediterranean spring climate, will offer an unforgettable experience to all the participants.

We look forward to welcoming you all to Florence in 2023.

Sincerely

Prof. Stefano Maci
EuCAP2023 Conference Chair
